THE EVENING DISPATCH.
PROVO CITY, NOV. 5, 1895

Nature frowned on the republicans last night and prevented them from having a parade. A goodly number of people however, enough to fill the opera house to about three-fourths its capacity—waded through the storm to hear the speakers, L. Holbrook, Arthur Brown and John Henry Smith.

The city council met last night and transacted the usual routine business usual to the first monthly meeting, approving accounts, making appropriations, etc.

W. W. JACKSON of American Fork, a gentleman well known throughout the county as an old and enterprising citizen, died Sunday at the age of sixty-four. He was buried yesterday.

JUDITH G. W. BRAN of Richfield, one of the pioneer settlers of Provo is in the city. He has just returned from an extended trip to the eastern states and Canada visiting friends and places he has not seen for many years and having an enjoyable time.

The republicans in the south end of the county, and possibly other places, attempted to secure populist votes for the republican judicial and legislative candidates by resorting to the following trick. The straight populist ticket contains only the name of candidates for governor, secretary of state, auditor and treasurer. The republicans had printed tickets with the populist candidates for the above offices, and added below the names of the republican candidates for the legislature and judiciary. The trick was denounced by the populists, and many who would otherwise have voted for republican candidates voted for democrats instead.

The Latest in Wall Papers.

The very latest fashion in wall decoration is a bizarre, staring shade of paper known as hunter's red. It comes in plain all over red and again varie-gated with figures and pictures. The grotesque and fantastic designs suggest the headless dragons, centaurs and puzzling eccentricities of the old fashioned paperings of our grandmother's day.

The paper is used to decorate bachelors' dens and the bed chambers of country houses. It is essentially English in character and design, many of the designs depicting red coated hunters in English fields. So vividly green is the grass, so impressively blue the wafer, so distorted the image of the wounded stag, repeated over and over again on yards and yards of papering, that the beholder wonders alike at the artist's powers of invention and the taste which makes such creations possible. Fashion dictates that with this wall decoration must go old time English prints of bustling scenes.

With such wall decoration for bed rooms and bachelor apartments the old fashioned chintz bed curtains and valance of three generations ago have reappeared. Every imaginable variety of big flowered pattern and prim design is shown in these cottons, and many of them are as delicate in tint and texture as the prettiest silk draperies.—New York Sun.

It is said that Collis P. Huntington's desire to sell the $3,000,000 park which he has just completed in New York is his belief in the old superstition that old men who grow rich build fine houses for their funerals. He expected to move in three years ago, but it was only last year that the house began to get near completion. In the meantime his health had become less and less vigorous. His age and his years of hard work and worry began to tell upon him. The superstition came back with renewed force, and he began to think a great deal about it. At last he became absolutely convinced that should he move in the first function to which his friends would come would be his funeral. Then he decided that he would not even keep the house in the family —Brooklyn Citizen.

Many years ago "the Wizard of the North" gave some performances in Edinburgh, and Professor Blackie was one of the crowd who went to see them. As he was making his way in he felt something at his coat, and putting his hand into his pocket he found an egg.
This he took out and most admiringly transferred it to the pocket of a young man just in front of him, a person as unlike himself as can well be imagined.
Arrived in the hall, he remarked where this young man placed himself and chose his own seat in a corner as remote as possible. When the time came for "the Wizard" to appear, he pointed to the corner for the egg, he arose and explained that he had nothing of the sort in his pocket, but that he believed "that gentleman" could produce it, pointing to the astonished young man, whose surprise, however, by no means equalled that of the "Wizard."—M. A. in London News.

Fatal Accident.

A fatal accident occurred in the Bullion-Beck mine at Eureka last evening. Dennis Sullivan, foreman of the mine, was at work on a stoping when a large mass of rock fell upon it, breaking it and throwing Mr. Sullivan about fourteen feet, the rock falling on top of him. One leg and foot were broken.
His back severely injured and he was otherwise seriously hurt. He survived the accident but a short time. Mr.
Sullivan was well acquainted in this city, where he was known as "Denny-Beck" Sullivan, and his death will be learned with regret by a large number of acquaintances.—Tribune.

THE LONDON JOHNNIES.

Boas of British Noblemen Shock Politic Society by Their Goings On.

Politie society in London has had an other severe shock in the announcement that one of the most eligible young men in the matrimonial market has engaged himself to a port young person playing a second rate part at the Gaiety theater.

The gentleman is Majorbanks, the eldest son of Lord Tweedmouth, one of the wealthiest of peers, and the lady is Miss Birdie Sutherland, better known as Birdie, the sister of Lady Harold, the comedian and singer of plantation songs, at present gracing the Drury Lane pantomime. Nobody has ventured to suggest that these two young women are not as good and virtuous as they are undeniably pretty, and it is a fact that they reside in a genteel suburb with their widowed mother and frequently take part in social charity concerts, but all that, with additional proof of severe respectability afforded by the fact that their father was a clerk in the Bank of England, is scarcely sufficient to justify their ambition to contract an alliance with a family the head of which is a member of the British cabinet.

Lord Tweedmouth asked newspaper men in the common lobby to retract the report of his son's marriage, from which it may be assumed that he succeeded in arranging matters. But it would not be at all surprising if the match would be ratified after all.
Young Majorbanks, who is familiarly known to the habitués of the Gaiety theater as "the Skipper," celebrated his majority the other day.

This infatuation is probably the result of the latest fad among the London Johnnies, who indulge in exciting rivalry to score the highest possible number of attendances in the front row of the stalls where the most popular entertainment is given. There is declared to be the finest aggregation of female loveliness just now in "The Skipper" on the Gaiety theater stage that was ever achieved in London. The same individuals fill the front stalls night after night. They are either very young or very old, but the young ones predominate. The son reports in the lobby the other evening heard young Majorbanks boast to another sprig of nobility that it was his sixty-second attendance. The other appeared quite crestfallen. He said it was only his forty-fifth.—London Cor. New York Sun.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.
There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When the tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or impaired hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

THE GEORGE W. CHILDS TOMB.

A Mausoleum of Granite and Bronze to Be Erected in a Philadelphia Cemetery.

Friends here of Mrs. George W.
Childs, who since the death of her distinguished husband has been living solitarily in Washington, learned yesterday that she had given directions for the erection of a magnificent mausoleum in Central Laurel Hill cemetery and that the body of the late Mr. Childs will be placed in it. Mr. Childs' body at present lies near that of his friend, the late Anthony J. Drexel, in the Drexel tomb in Woodlands cemetery.

The mausoleum is to be constructed of granite of a design in the colonial style of architecture. Granite and bronze are the only materials to be used in the construction, and the mausoleum is to have no brick lining or lining of other material. The tomb is to be located along the terrace in the cemetery close to the Nicotown lane entrance and opposite the cottage of the superintendent of the cemetery.

The doors of the tomb are now being cast. They are of solid bronze 7 feet high and 3 feet 8 inches wide. They will be surmounted with a handsomely finished molded cornice. An oblong grille of finely carved scroll work design will ornament each door. The mausoleum will be pierced with a bronzed window fitted with a circular grille 2 feet in diameter in front of the figured cathedral glass. The grille is richly carved.

There will be four catacombs in the mausoleum. The bronze plates for them will be handsomely carved and modeled. Mr. Childs' body will be placed in the mausoleum soon after the tomb shall have been completed.—Philadelphia Press.

Somber Christianity.

The Anti Light Kirk when Dr. Chalmers visited it was a terribly bare little building. The elders were a grim set.
They kept their bonnets on their heads till the minister entered, and they had each a large stick in his hand, which they used for "chappin'" their noses through all the service. The minister was no gown or bands. He gave a very long sermon full of sound divinity, but without the smallest practical application and without a vestige of feeling. At length Dr. Chalmers got into the dismal worship being ended, and his word was, "If these people ever go to heaven, they will live on the north side of it."—San Francisco Argonaut.

A Great Memory.

The Journal of Speculative Philosophy gives a remarkable instance of a yawner in Indiana who could remember what he had done on every day for 20 years. He was repeatedly tested by reference to the notes made on previous examinations, and never failed both to name the day of the week and to tell what occurred to him on that day. The words used in his narratives often varied, but he always had the events as he had mentioned them before.

That Joyful Feeling

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never accepted by the well informed.

Worthy Your Confidence.

The success of Hood's Sarsaparilla in conquering scrofula in whatever way it may manifest itself is vouched for by thousands who were severely afflicted by this prevalent disease, but who now rejoice over a permanent cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Scrofula may appear as a humor, or it may attack the glands of the neck, or break out in dreadful running sores on the body and limbs. Attacking the mucous membrane, it may develop into catarrh or lodging in the lungs lead to consumption. Come as it may, a faithful course of treatment with Hood's Sarsaparilla will overcome it, for working upon the foundation of all diseases, impure blood, the system is clarified and vitalized, and vigor, strength and health restored to the body.

THE CURRENT FRENCH CRAZE.

Extreme Legislation Proposed as the Result of the Spy Mania.

The succession of fanciful crazes in which the French people have been indulging in the past two years has placed upon the statute books some of the most monstrous laws that ever disgraced a monarchy, not to say a democracy. The present spy mania promises to add some amazing legislation of this description.

The law against espionage laid before the chamber by the minister of war, now awaiting enactment, is of this character. The pretended purpose of the bill is to enable the penalty of death against traitors, such as Captain Dreyfus, to be inflicted, but it contains a number of insidious clauses which would enable a government not troubled with scruples of conscience to get rid of its enemies by trumping up spurious charges of disclosing state secrets.

For instance, it proposes to inflict five years' imprisonment and 10,000 francs' fine on any unqualified person who shall, even without intent of espionage, have procured, got hold of or published any plans, documents or information concerning the national defense or the external safety of the state. This proposal is strongly denounced by the opposition newspapers, and even the ministerial Deputies admit that it is going a little too far. It is hardly surprising that some of the London newspapers are declaring that the only safety for foreigners is to stay away from France.—Paris Letter.
